Editorial:

Dear Stakeholders of the New Brunswick Health Research Enterprise

The current calendar year is soon coming to an end. 2015 will be a part of our history

For ALL of us, it remains a time to reflect on what we have accomplished and learned along the way; the people with whom we have made the journey to date and the experiences that prepare us for the future. If you don't succeed at first, try, try again and never give up. If you have met success for some projects, take the time to pause and celebrate as it is part of a balanced approach for everything in life.

The weekly e-NewsLetter will not be published for the next three (3) weeks, skipping two editions, returning on Monday Jan. 11.

On behalf of our entire team, including the Chair of the Board, the Board Members, the Executive and staff, we offer you our sincere best and warm wishes for the season, as we resolutely set ourselves for an ever better and brighter 2016.

Regards

- Dr. Bruno Battistini, President & CEO – Scientific Director, NBHRF
